

Forum @ Tripadvisor:

Bruce and Jack - Sanfrancisco U.S.A
with Thailand No#1 Orchid farm Owner Mr. Mana November 2009

Photo taken: Mana Orchids Gallery With: Mr. Mana, Thailand's No#1 Orchid Grower

On Mon, Nov 17, 2008 at 8:48 PM, Jack Thomas <jack.bulldog@gmail.com> wrote:

Posted: tripadvisor.com

“We hired Irene (klugcat@gmail.com), whom we found through this forum, after getting no timely reply from Tong Tours. Irene was terrific! She and her driver were friendly, knowledgeable, and very responsive to our needs and wishes. She took us to places we would surely not have seen otherwise, including a sensational orchid grower outside of Bangkok. Her English is sensational, and her range of expertise had no limit we could find. Reasonable rates, friendly - we would recommend Irene without reservation to anyone!”

vhe

Jakarta

“when in Bangkok, do as Bangkokians do ^^”

Nov 18, 2008, 10:47 PM

Thailand,, hmm,, City of Temples... they really have a lot, great, artistic, beautiful Temple. It's really wonderful, feels like I want to take my picture in every viewpoint hehehe,, and the Foods,,, its really delicious, tasteful, and spicy ^^ if you wants to travel like you are the Bangkokians, you can contact Irene. She's my tour guide when I and my friends went to Thailand for the first time. She's very nice, helpful, and Thank God she speaks English (and German actually ^^). Fully recommended because she has guide license, so don't you worry, you're in a good hand ^^,,, you can count on her for your fantastic trip to Thailand. We went to many place in Bangkok and Pattaya even if we're only have so little time, from all temples, all night market, tiger show, Nong Nooch village, alcazar show, “other” show, Mini Siam, and the hill near Pattaya where you can see all Pattaya form there.. It's really nice. We went shopping to Chatucak, MBK, all Siam mall, Pratunam, dinner at Chao Phraya River with the Cruise and more. See? So many place, ha? ^^ Trust me if you're a first timer to Bangkok, you'd better ask Irene to help you, so you won't spend your time useless, because so many places to go in Thailand!! She's not only help to with the place but will help you with the foods, we tried all Thai foods from curry, noodles, and seafood in very various and interesting place. So memorable trip and very satisfied with her services ^^ thanks Irene.

woodsdevil

Bury St...

Re: Good Local Tour Operator

Oct 01, 2008, 4:26 AM

We recently used Irene

She was really good. She believes taking you to have a taste of local life. We ate at local stalls that I would never dream of doing it myself. It's so useful to have a personal tourguide, that i definitely recommend her.

We did a 1/2 day bangkok tour (25th Aug) with her and she was very detailed and worked to what we wanted out of our tour.