

April 29, 2012- Daley group

We enjoyed a scenic ride through the city and northward toward Girona with Gemma, our highly educated and well spoken guide, pointing out every landmark and explaining the history, economics, geography and culture related details of each. The City of Girona was very scenic and interesting and provided an opportunity for a quick lunch at a sidewalk cafe.

The city of Figueres seemed more modern and held our destination, the Salvador Dali Museum. Most people might recognize this artist's "melting watches" but his modern, surrealistic style encompasses an unbelievable array of techniques and objects. Gemma mentioned that her area of study was NOT art, but art must be at least a hobby, if not a passion. She was incredibly knowledgeable and able to pass on her wealth of information to us in a most personable way. Thanks once again to Gemma providing a wonderfully enjoyable, scenic, and educational day.
